Harding Blocks Borah's Plan For Economy Parley

President, In Letter To Senate Leader, Urges Defeat Of Amendment

CLIMAX OF BITTER FIGHT

Can't Fix Reparations Sum For Other Nations, Declares Executive

By Associated Press

Washington — President Harding asked the Senate Thursday not to adopt Senator Borah's proposal for a new international economic conference, saying in a letter to Republican leader Lodge that formal congressional action on the subject now would embarrass him in negotiations he already is conducting looking to such a conference.

The president's letter was sent to Senator Lodge for presentation during the senate's second day of debate on the Borah proposal which is embodied in an amendment to the naval appropriation bill.

BLOCKS SENATE ACTION

The president acted directly to block senate action after he had consulted with Secretary Hughes and after Senator Lodge had visited the white house and had reported on the progress made in the determined fight already being waged against the Borah amendment by administration leaders.

Without disclosing details of what he is doing, the president suggested that congress might be helpful by freeing the hands of the allied debt commission. He also declared that the reparations was the foundation of European difficulties and that this nation "cannot assume to say to one nation what it shall pay in reparations nor to another what it shall accept."

WARN OF PROMISE

As to further armament limitation negotiations, also provided for in the Borah plan, President Harding warned against what might be "a gesture of promise to the world which can not be fulfilled until the nations directly concerned express their readiness to cooperate to such an end."

The president's letter follows:

My Dear Senator Lodge:

"Replying to your inquiry relative to the proposed amendment or the pending naval bill authorizing and requesting the president to call an economic conference to deal with conditions in the war torn nations of Europe I write to say that I know no prohibition against such an expression on the part of congress, but I do frankly question the desirability of such an expression. I think it is undesirable because of the false impressions which may be conveyed thereby to Europe and even more undesirable because of the wrong impression it conveys to our own people."

"On the face of things it is equally evident to say that the executive branch of the government which is charged with the conduct of foreign relations is not fully alive to a world situation which is of deep concern to the United States."

TAKING ACTIVE PART

"As a matter of fact the European situation has been given a most thorough and thoughtful consideration for many months. Without questioning the good faith of the proposal I am very sure it would have been more seemly, and the action of the congress could be taken much more intelligently if proper inquiry had been made of the state department relative to the situation in which we are trying to be helpful."

"Of necessity the communications of state department relative to diplomatic matters among nations relative to delicate matters among nations cannot be bulletinized from day to day but the situation is never withheld from members of congress who choose to inquire for confidential information in a spirit

WILSON IS 66 TODAY; TO LEAD PARTY, IS VIEW

Senate Resolution Expresses Joy Of War President's Recovery

BULLETIN

Washington—Without debate and with a chorus of "avaus" from the Democratic senators and silence from most of the Republican side, the senate Tuesday adopted a resolution of Senator Harris, Democratic of Oregon, expressing the pleasure and joy of the senate "upon the recovery toward health of former President Wilson."

BY HARRY HUNT

NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—The sixty sixth birth day anniversary—Dec. 28, 1922—finds Woodrow Wilson again on the edge of the political spotlight.

Whether that spotlight again will swing to put the former president in the center of its radiance is to many the most engaging question before America today.

There seems little doubt that Wilson today is physically better than at any time since his collapse in 1919. Though his left side still is partly paralyzed, Wilson now is able to stand without his cane and he even walks a few steps in his garden with out his aid. His color is better. He has taken on weight.

Wilson unquestionably is the leader of the Democratic party today. His hold on the minds and hearts of the rank and file of his party has been strengthened by his illness and by the difficulties in which the world has found itself the last two years.

WILL GUIDE 1921 POLICIES

It seems certain Wilson will lay down the lines on which the Democratic party will attempt its comeback in 1924 and that his influence on the choice of candidates will be most powerful.

But for his remaining seated and Georges Clemenceau after his recent call on the president, "he was the same Wilson I knew in Paris." Slighter, fatter, nothing else. He showed himself thoroughly abreast of affairs.

Of Wilson's famous 14 points—he creed for establishing world peace—Clemenceau said:

"Yes, I mentioned them. And Wilson's face lit up. He was a firm believer in their ultimate triumph."

PERPLEXING DILEMMA

The dilemma is one of the most perplexing that has ever faced the American government. The executive has the power to negotiate agreements with foreign governments which do not commit the United States to certain obligations. If it had not been for the law passed by congress which specifically requires submission to both houses there would not be any difficulty. It is a broad question really whether the executive couldn't make an agreement anyhow covering the funding of the debt but in the face of what congress has specified, Mr. Harding will not try it. He will either ask for an amendment to the existing law when it is apparent the negotiations have reached a vital point or he will ask for broad powers before the negotiations begin. In that case he will have to keep the British delegation waiting while plenary powers are obtained from congress.

DENBY SAVES WISCONSIN "MIDDLE" FROM DISMISSAL

By Associated Press

Annapolis, Md.—The verdict in the case of Midshipman Francis W. Laurent of Wisconsin, one of six midshipmen of the senior class recently convicted before naval court martial and recommended for dismissal, has been set aside by Secretary of the Navy Denby, authorities of the Naval Academy announced. In accordance with the secretary's edict, Laurent was released from arrest.

It is said that certain mitigating circumstances moved department officials to override the dismissal verdict in Laurent's case.

Laurent was accused of compelling Wendell B. Allen, Jr., "a phebe" from Oklahoma to do certain physical exercises.

BRITISH WILL ASK DEFINITE DEBT POLICY

Arrival Of Commission Will Bring Climax To Many Administration Problems

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1922, by the Post Pub. Co. Washington—Great Britain's delegation which has just sailed for the United States to renegotiate an agreement whereby the rate of interest and the annual payments on the war debt shall be definitely fixed for a period of years will bring to a climax a half dozen vital questions which have been hanging fire for several months.

Representative Mondell, republican who talked with President Harding at length Wednesday on the question of an economic conference disclosed after leaving the white house some of the difficulties which stand in the way of negotiation with the Allied governments.

"The very people," he said, "who recently were limiting the powers of the debt commission are now loud in their clamor for an economic conference."

INTEREST RATE HIGH

In other words, the administration is insisting that not only fixed an interest rate admittedly too high for the Allies to pay at once but fixed twenty-five years as the period of payment for the whole debt.

The administration has been considering whether to ask congress to amend the law creating the funding commission and give that body more flexibility. But to do so might disclose the administration's hand in the negotiations with the foreign government.

Lord Curzon's statement that "the turning point of the conference had come" and that England would determine to continue the Mosul controversy was in direct conflict with Prime Minister's note asserting that the Turkish people had decided "to employ to the last limit of its forces all means to obtain the return of Mosul to the motherland."

Between these two extremes there is a gulf which seems likely to be difficult if not impossible for the conference to bridge.

Pistol Would Not Fire; 7 Freed; 1 Dead

By Associated Press

Detroit—A pistol that would not fire for a jail guard, played an important part last Sunday in the escape of seven prisoners from the Wayne co jail. Reliance on the same faulty weapon was responsible in large measure for the death early Thursday of Joseph Ryan, the convict who wrested it from the guard as he fled the jail. It refused to work when Ryan and three other fugitives were cornered in an apartment house Wednesday night and a detective fatally shot him and his companions.

Ryan, leader in the jail delivery, died shortly after midnight after suffering a part in several daring robberies since his escape. He also cleared deputies at the jail of suspicion in connection with escape which officials had declared was permitted by carelessness of officers. Ryan said he was wanted by authorities at Mansfield, O.

A wooden key found in the pocket of one of the captured men solved the mystery of their escape, the sheriff's office announcing it unlocked a door leading to the main corridor.

The men captured with Ryan were Walter Hansen, Donald Smith and Frank Wyrembelski.

The sheriff's office announced that Joseph Zakrzewski, another of the escaped prisoners had been trapped and soon would be taken into custody.

DENY BAIL FOR MAYOR HELD IN KIDNAPING CASE

Dr. McKinley Loses Fight In Baltimore—Must Face Louisiana Authorities

By Associated Press

Baltimore, Md.—Dr. B. M. McKinley, former mayor of Met. Rouge, La. Thursday lost his fight for immediate release on habeas corpus proceedings. He was remanded "without prejudice" to give the Louisiana authorities opportunity to present their case.

Dr. McKinley was arrested here Tuesday at the request of Governor Parker of Louisiana who accused him of murder in connection with the Morehouse kidnaping last August.

Three judges of the Baltimore supreme bench sitting in city court denied Dr. McKinley the right to bail.

A dispatch from Attorney General Clegg of Louisiana to state's attorney Leach stated that Dr. McKinley formally had been charged with the murder of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards.

The dispatch added that a deputy sheriff was on his way to Baltimore with the necessary papers in the case learned Thursday.

GOVERNOR IN CONFERENCE

By Associated Press

New Orleans, La.—Governor Parker reached here Thursday morning to take part in the conference which he will hold Thursday with his legal associates and federal investigators to outline plans for the open hearing at Eastrop and to discuss other phases of the Morehouse kidnaping investigation.

A number of citizens of Monroe are coming to the front ready to offer evidence that Dr. McKinley was not in Morehouse Parish on the afternoon and night of Aug. 21 when the Met. Rouge men were kidnaped.

With this completed, it was said, Dr. McKinley with others were summoned for the post of prohibition commissioner of Illinois, expected to be filled by commissioner Haynes within a few days.

LIMP CAUSES ARREST OF BOY AS ALLEGED GUNMAN

Superior—Lawrence Frazer, 19, shipbuilder, was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging felonious assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to do bodily harm to Carl Halberg. Halberg is a former city patrolman and deputy sheriff, now a special agent for the terminal railroad. Frazer was shot through the leg when he and a companion assaulted Halberg on an east end street car Dec. 23. Frazer was suspected of implication in the assault, but was not arrested until he was seen limping on the street. The arrest of the second man, who had a deep gash cut in his head by the butt of Halberg's revolver, is expected in his fall.

PRISONER CONFESSES HE POISONED WIFE IN SICKBED

By Associated Press

Austin, Minn.—Clarence Hamblen of Clevon, Minn., arrested in Stockton Calif., on a charge of arson, has confessed that he poisoned his wife in her sickbed at their home in Clevon on Oct. 9, according to a statement issued today by Sheriff Carter. The alleged confession, the sheriff said, was made in the county jail here Wednesday night.

George J. Schneider Review
Washington Trip Before
Trades Council

Lack Of Interest In Plans Taken To Mean Opposition Is Nil

Mayor Henry Reuter's announcement inviting the public to inspect the plans for the proposed Cherry Street and Lawest bridges has not yet had its desired effect. The number of persons who came to the engineering office of the city hall to look at the plans is surprisingly few.

This attitude, which to some may appear as a lack of interest, Mayor Reuter has interpreted as an indication that the majority of the people are probably satisfied with things as they are.

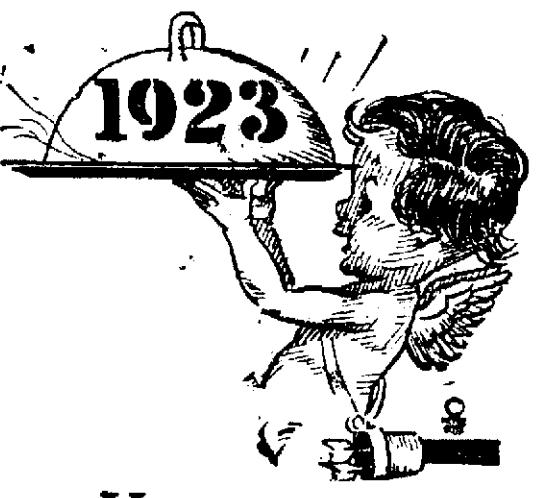

It is the plan of the common council to meet one of the engineers of the firm of Harrington, Howard & Ash, Kansas City, before the day of the next council meeting, Jan. 3, and resume its study of the bridge plans. The council is still recessing as a committee of the whole, awaiting a call for a meeting from Chairman J. F. Lappin.

IMPROVED BUS ADDED TO LINE TO NEW LONDON

Inter-county Bus line, operating between Appleton and New London, has added a new motor bus to its line which is a distinct improvement over the busses commonly in use. It is built along the same lines as the new bus the Tri-City line added a short time ago and which is now running between Neenah and Oshkosh. It is somewhat larger than the other busses used, but has elegant lines and curves. The upholstery is also of a superior order. The bus is painted gray like the other New London busses.

Open-Minded Study By Industries Possible Through Coming Bulletin

Both sides of the movement in Wisconsin for unemployment compensation insurance will be presented to manufacturers here by the chamber of commerce in the next issue of the Business Information bulletin now under preparation.

It is certain, the chamber finds, that the Huber bill proposing compensation by concerns when employees are laid off during slack periods will be introduced at the coming session of the legislature for the fourth time. An attempt therefore will be made to lay before business men in the bulletins a summary of the entire subject.

Well-informed persons or organizations advocating either passage or defeat of the bill will supply the data to be used in the bulletin. It is believed that manufacturers, in this way, will gain an intelligent comprehension of the purposes and provisions of the measure and be guided surely in their attitude toward this industrial innovation.

All employers will be helped further in this problem by Wisconsin Association of Master Builders when the state convention is in session here in January. An open meeting is planned on the afternoon when unemployment insurance will be taken up, and two speakers will present opposite sides. All employers are invited to attend.

SIX NEW OFFICERS TO SERVE COUNTY

No Applications Announced For Positions Of Nurse And County Agent

On Jan. 1 there will be a partial turnover of officers in the county courthouse. The county clerk, treasurer, sheriff, district attorney, supervisor of assessors and county nurse will vacate their offices at that time.

Clerk Herman J. Kamps will be succeeded by John E. Hentschel, while Louis A. Peterson will turn over the treasurer's books to Miss Marie Ziegenhausen. Sheriff P. G. Schwartz will move from the county jail in order to make room for Otto Zuehlke, sheriff-elect. The undersheriff will be William Fries. John A. Lonsdorf, assessor of incomes and supervisor of assessors, will simply make a change from that office to district attorney, thus succeeding Fred V. Heinenann. The resignation of Miss Bertha Schulz, county nurse, also will be effective on that day.

No announcement has been made by the state civil service commission relative to the examination that is to be held to secure a successor to Mr. Lonsdorf. There are several candidates for the office. No applications have been received by Miss Florence S. Jenkins, secretary of the county health committee, for the position of county nurse. The county board at its last session reduced the salary of the nurse.

Miss Jenkins, as secretary of the county agricultural committee, which is to secure the services of a county agent, has received no word from the state department relative to applicants for that position.

ADD 600 ICED CARS TO BADGER LINES

Six-hundred refrigerator cars have been assigned to Wisconsin railroads by the interstate commerce commission, the Wisconsin railroad commission announces.

This order will alleviate "a serious shortage of refrigerator car equipment which has been extant in Wisconsin ever since the extreme cool weather started," the commission said.

The interstate commerce commission action was taken by a representative of the railroad commission who had made a special trip to Chicago to tell of the large amounts of perishable agricultural products awaiting shipment at stations over the state.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul gets 200 cars; the Chicago & Northwestern, 200; the Soo Line 100; and the Green Bay & Western 100.

MOVIE DOG'S DOUBLE

I was in the post office at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon when the crowd came from Fischer's Appleton theater. Several people came into the building and took special notice of a dog which was lying near the writing tables. My curiosity was aroused because the dog did look familiar but I was not able to place him until a woman remarked to her companion "Why, there is the tramp's dog." The dog did look enough like the airdale in "The Old Homestead" to be his brother.

POWDER PUFF VS. SHOE LACE

Hurrying down the street and trying to powder her nose at the same time caused an embarrassing moment for a young woman who came down one of the flats on Appleton-st. She had evidently forgotten to powder her nose, so took her powder puff from her purse and hurried along as she gazed into the mirror. A woman had stopped to her shoe lace directly in the path of the nose-powdering flapper. The young woman was coming so rapidly that she fell over the kneeling woman and knocked her down. Both women were greatly embarrassed by the amusement of the onlookers.

Meltz Brothers Harmony orchestra, formerly of Appleton, is touring the state of Washington with pronounced success. At present it is appearing in cities along Columbia river.

In speaking of it a Wilson Creek newspaper recently said: "A large crowd attended the dance here Saturday evening. The music was furnished by the Meltz Brothers Harmony orchestra of Spokane. This orchestra is one of the finest that has visited Wilson Creek for the last few years."

EMANUEL S. S. BOYS AID "Y" TO PAY $100 PLEDGE

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. received the notice below from the "Pals" of Emanuel Evangelical Sunday school which will help materially in the raising of the $100 which seven of its club representatives subscribed at the older boys' conference at Latrosse recently.

"The Pals" of the Sunday school of Emanuel Evangelical church of Appleton do hereby present the sum of ten dollars for the support of boys' work in foreign fields which is being done by the Y. M. C. A. Edward Petznick, teacher; Harold Finger, leader; Herman Brockhaus, president.

Richard Barthelmes, who jumped into national fame over night by his wonderful work in "Tol'able David," has realized the opportunities presented by "Sonny" in an excellent presentation of subdued emotions and stirring heart appeal.

The picture was directed by Henry King, who also directed "Tol'able David." It will be shown at the Elite tonight for the last time.

GREAT CAST IN THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

The phrase "all star" has been much abused, but the cast of "Old Homestead" now showing at Fischer's Appleton theatre may truthfully be said to be of that calibre. Theodore Roberts, George Fawcett, T. Roy Barnes, Fritzi Ridgway, Harrison Ford, Kathleen O'Connor, James Mason, Ethel Wales and others make up a list that is hard to surpass.

New Farm Building Anton Merget, whose farm is on Manitowocard, is building a modern farm building which is to serve as a combination dairy house, garage and hen house. Each of these is partitioned off from the other. The building is about 40 by 10 feet in dimension and has a hip roof.

There is no "dope" in Tysmol—no dangerous drugs of any kind. Guaranteed to be absolutely harmless. People everywhere say that nothing ever gave them such wonderful relief. Price $1 at Schmitz Bros. PAMPHLETS TELL OF MANAGER PLAN

Chamber Of Commerce Gets Supply Of Data In Response To Requests

So much discussion is abroad in Appleton concerning the relative merits of government of the city by commission and under the managerial plan that the chamber of commerce has obtained a supply of pamphlets describing the managerial plan and will be glad to give them to any who will call for them. This was done in response to requests for details of how the plan works.

Several books and other data are obtained also on the commission plan, but the chamber found no calls for this information as most people are familiar with its operation during the six years the city was ruled by commissioners.

Demand for enlightenment came after it was announced that petitions would be placed in circulation by a group of local men for a referendum which would replace the aldermanic system in force here with the commission form.

Anybody who desires a complete explanation of the Muscle Shoals project in Alabama and Henry Ford's desire to purchase this property from the government may obtain it through another publication received

Memories

Marinette High School Football Fans Who Spent Night In Jail Here Evidently Liked Sojourn—Remembered Police With Greeting Card.

Marinette football enthusiasts have not yet forgotten the Marinette-Appleton football game played here last fall, so members of the Appleton police department have learned.

A quartet of Marinette high school boys, penniless and careless, "beat" their way to Appleton at the time via the "side door pullman." Having no money to pay for lodgings, they were guests of the city jail that night. They made the walls ring with their cheers and songs.

Feeling some compunction perhaps over "spending" a night's lodging in the fact of so brilliant victory in the football game, they sent the police department a card wishing the officers a Merry Christmas and a New Year.

WHERE HAVE WE BEEN?

The story is told of the old colored lady, who, cautiously observing a merry-go-round, was asked to take a ride.

"No, sah," she replied. "Ah doan't never ride on dem things—why, de other day ah seen dat Rastus Johnson get on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' got off at the very same place he got on at an' ah sez to him: 'Rastus, ah sez, 'yo' spend aw yo' money, but whar you been?'"

The country has given serious attention to this movement for many years. Now and then it becomes so pronounced as to cause alarm. Shrewd observers begin to fear that American agriculture is in danger of collapse, that so many farmers will give up at one time that the country will suffer both a food and money panic.

The philosophy of the old colored mammy is worthy of our consideration, especially at this time when the year 1922 is drawing to a close. "Whar have we been?" Years come and go in a merry cycle, merry perhaps to some and sad to others, but to most of us life is a mixture of merriment and sadness, success and failure, progress and depression. The summing up of the year is like the summing up of life itself. Where have we been? Whither are we bound?

Let each individual answer these questions for himself. On the last few lines of page 1922 in life's open book let us make our final memorandum before turning to page 1923. To be honest with ourselves let us subject ourselves to our own severe criticism and thoughtfully weigh our progress. Let us not fail to cite our shortcomings and those of our efforts which have been wasted. Let us be modest in our claims to success and accomplishment. Our good deeds will speak for themselves.

Where we are going depends largely upon where we have been to get where we are. If we have been taking a ride on a merry-go-round year in and year out, seeking only those things which amuse and thrill, then we are sure to find ourselves today right where we were a year ago. The mere thought of being so stupid shames us into an avoidance of such an insane existence. Ridicule begets serious thought. Some of us need to be ridiculed before we come to our senses. How much are we like "Rastus," and how much are we like the old colored lady? Let each one of us be his own judge.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT OPERATION

If there is any one department of government activity which has been held above reproach it is the postoffice. It has been the one tangible example on which favorers of government ownership have pinned their arguments. "Look at the postoffice department," they have cried. "how perfectly its cog work, how profitably, quietly and efficiently its gray-coated army bears the communications of all the people over land and sea and through the air."

But what is this?

General Dawes, director of the budget, until last summer, has been unable, in conscience, to conceal any longer the report of expert accountants made for the first time upon the operation of the post office. This report was suppressed, in his opinion because of the fear of inside subordinates that their antiquated "system" would be disturbed. It was thrown in the wastebasket and Postmaster General Work described it as much ado about nothing. Yet it showed—

That for the first three months ending March 31, 1922, the postoffice lost $16,000,000, or at a rate of $64,000,000 per year.

That the deficit for the year—now actually reported to be $60,000,000—has been conveniently charged off to "fire, burglary and other causes." Dawes says be sure and put the emphasis on the "other causes."

That the bureaucratic system in charge of the postoffice makes it impossible for a postmaster general to know just where the finances stand.

That the present accounting plan is out of date and has successfully concealed the fact for years.

Thus bursts the bubble of our self-supporting postoffice. It is running into a steady deficit charged against taxes instead of into the price of mailing matter. Mr. Dawes demands the use of such a statement as he had drawn up, which will let the people of America know what each department is costing them. He has all taxpayers behind him.

LOOK TO THE FARMER

Government reports from Washington refer to "a great and ominous movement" from farms to the city. Farm laborers, tenants and owners are represented. The movement is said to be widespread, affecting practically every region in the country. The cause is given as poor economic conditions in rural communities—expensive crop and live stock production costs and low market prices. Farmers are going into urban industry in the hope of making a comfortable living and escaping the worries and disappointments of farm life, with its eternal battle against the weather, disease and adverse market conditions.

The country has given serious attention to this movement for many years. Now and then it becomes so pronounced as to cause alarm. Shrewd observers begin to fear that American agriculture is in danger of collapse, that so many farmers will give up at one time that the country will suffer both a food and money panic.

The man who starts something and then runs away from it because things are not going to his liking may be a very sincere person," the ALEXANDER BEACON JOURNAL (Rep.) grants, but "he must excuse the public if it fails to follow him," and the only possible conclusion to draw is that "either Mr. Keller had a poor case or else he has handled it very poorly." As in the case of many papers of both parties frankly unfriendly to Mr. Daugherty, the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Dem.) insists that in spite of the many sins of his administration, he has done nothing "that justified Representative Keller in the course he has pursued." Having brought "more or less serious charges against the Attorney General," the HUNTINGTON HERALD-DISPATCH (Rep.) insists that "it was his duty to do his best to prove them." Instead, however, as the MOBILE REGISTER (Dem.) sees it, his "emotional course" leads to the conclusion that in his prosecution of the case "he has run short of information of sufficient importance to command the respect of the committee."

The treatment for frostbite should be stimulation of the individual with hot coffee, and the application of general warmth—hot water bag, hot foot, bath, etc. But for ordinary nips of the cheek or nose, moderate massage with snow or cool water is sufficient, and this should be carefully done to avoid blistering by friction. The rubbing and massaging should cease the instant a natural color returns to the bitten skin. This usually occurs after a few seconds of treatment. In ordinary frostbites excessive rubbing will do more harm than the bite itself, for at the worst there is a mere peeling of cuticle as after a sunburn.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

FROSTBITE

Every reasonable human being should know what to do in certain emergencies, such as drowning accidents, suffocation by gas, electric shock how to perform Schafer's easy method of artificial respiration, sunstroke, fainting and frostbite. Too often the victim is injured by dramatic efforts when something might be done for him by any bystander who is prepared. Preparedness is due to talk about, but it is a sin and a shame that the majority of supposedly intelligent adults can do nothing but gasp and yell and get in the way when an emergency occurs and make room for some one who can help—a Boy Scout, for instance. A Boy Scout can teach the average bystander a number of things it is valuable to know.

Frostbite is pathologically identical with a burn. Like a burn, it occurs in three degrees—the first degree is a mere redness and irritation of the skin; the second degree is blistering; the third degree is destruction of skin and underlying tissues, gangrene, sloughing, and all the subsequent effects seen in a deep burn.

Is the nose, the cheek, the ear or other part frostbitten? If the color returns very slowly after the pressure of the finger is removed, yes. If the redness is accompanied by swelling, yes. If the redness is followed by a blanching or whitening of the part, yes. If numbness or lack of sensation ensues upon tingling and burning, yes, it is a case of frostbite.

Chilblains is a mild form of frostbite, characterized chiefly by tingling, aching, smarting, burning. It is a frequently recurring first degree frostbite.

If frostbite is severe, the blanching is followed after an hour or two by blueness or lividity and blistering of the skin. Healing is even more tedious than after burn of similar degree. If the frostbite is of the third degree the surface becomes black and blue or marble like, there is no sensation or pain, and blisters cover the skin. This means gangrene—local death—and all the concomitants of that condition, sloughing ulceration sepsis.

The treatment for frostbite should be stimulation of the individual with hot coffee, and the application of general warmth—hot water bag, hot foot, bath, etc. But for ordinary nips of the cheek or nose, moderate massage with snow or cool water is sufficient, and this should be carefully done to avoid blistering by friction. The rubbing and massaging should cease the instant a natural color returns to the bitten skin. This usually occurs after a few seconds of treatment. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Bad Gas
My stomach contains so much gas that sometimes I think I must have gastritis.—B. B.
Answer—According to the same system if you were to sigh very frequently you would develop sciatica. Gastritis means inflammation of the stomach; the word is derived from the Latin word gas tro which means stomach, and has no reference to gas. You shouldn't think you must have this or that—it is bad for your health. Consult a physician. The chances are that your trouble is not attributable to the stomach at all.

Dentistry Is All Right

Is it all right for an expectant mother to have teeth filled or extracted when necessary?—Mrs. S. F.
Answer—Yes, by all means have necessary dentistry.

Red Sweat

What causes bleeding under the arms? Or at any rate the perspiration stains clothing red.—Mrs. P.

Answer—Usually a harmless bacterial growth upon the skin. Bacillus prodigiosus, produces the red stain. This may be overcome by sponging the armpits daily for a week or two with any suitable antiseptic solution, such as boric acid—as much boric acid powder as boiling water will take up.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, December 30, 1897

D. J. Boyle left for Iowa to visit his parents. Peter Beck of Green Bay attended the performance of Robin Hood the previous evening.

Mrs. W. G. DeWitt was spending the holidays with Milwaukee relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olds returned from a visit with Iowa relatives.

The city was visited by Robert Fitzsimmons and his company who were to visit Appleton on Jan. 5, 1888.

Capt. G. W. Spalding, 82, was about after being confined to his home for several days with a severe cold.

An inquest upon the death of Ewald Kuehne was to be held the following Wednesday. The jurors appointed by Coronor W. F. Montgomery were N. E. Morgan, D. Fox, William Wilson, Joseph Lauman, Joseph Mayer and George Limpert.

The new officers of the National Association of Stationary Engineers were: President, A. J. Ayers, vice president, John Jacobs; treasurer, William Morris; doorkeeper, H. Harp; secretary, Edward M. Garrison.

The postoffice force presented H. W. Meyer with a silk hat in return for the kindness the editor had shown them during the year.

The annual roll call of the Baptist church was to be held the following evening.

The Elks moved into their new rooms over D. W. Whorton's store. The committee appointed to secure new quarters and to fit them up consisted of F. S. Bradford, Herman Erb, Jr., and John Conway. The membership enrollment at that time was 32.

The highest scores at the tournament of the West End Bowling club were made by Gustave Keller and August Eberhart.

POLICE CHIEF HARDING

In addition to being by constitutional mandate the Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of the United States, President Harding has had a new honor thrust upon him. He is now chief of police of the White House squad.

"By a special act of congress," says the Washington story of this new departure, "the 11th old Washington policemen detailed at the White House have been formed into an independent force under the direct command of the president. Military tailors have designed a new uniform, neat but not too gaudy, distinctive but not too pompous. It will be of navy blue serge with a high military collar, bearing on each side 'W. H.' in gold thread monograms. With changing administrations it will not be necessary to change these initials for they stand for White House, not 'Warren Harding'."

We quote these intimate details in order to show that democracies are not always as drab as they are painted—BOSTON POST.

IMPEACHMENT COURT NO PLACE FOR POLITICAL QUARRELS

Out of what is widely viewed as the "farce" proceedings in the Daugherty impeachment case grows an insistence in editorial columns that some way be found to keep "political family rows" from assuming the grave proportions of actual impeachment charges. Quite apart from the merits of the case or of Attorney General Daugherty's fitness for the position he holds, newspapers are protesting against the lack of dignity and apparent lack of purpose that have so far characterized the hearings on the Keller charges.

For Representative Keller himself and his attitude in the matter there is scant sympathy. As the MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL (Ind.) sums up the performance it is "grand opera star" temperament, for "having written the words and music of his political farce." The Impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty, he now abandons his stellar role of the avenger, because the Judiciary Committee won't put the piece on the way he wrote it." And it is generally agreed that while, as Mr. Keller says, the hearings have become "a comic opera performance," the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD (Ind.) expresses the general estimate when it says that the Minnesota representative has himself become "the chief comedian."

In their replies to the questionnaire 124 cities reported that begging had become so general that rigid city ordinances were necessary in order to control it. The demand for licenses to peddle, applied for by cripples and those who are otherwise handicapped, is surprisingly large. In most cases these licenses are merely excuses for begging. The larger the city the more prevalent is the practice of begging.

In a recent interview, Roy Gates, secretary of the National Committee on Vagrancy and Begging said: "The presence of 1,000,000 men in the country who are unadjusted to our commercial and social life constitutes a serious problem. This great army of wanderers has no normal home development. It is distinctly not a social asset. As the questionnaires reveal, their presence is a serious problem for all communities, large and small. Few of these cases are helped by money. It is practically impossible to starve in New York. With very little effort these men can live on indefinitely. The problem can only be solved by studying it as a whole the country over, and by dealing with it in intelligent sympathy."

People Are Led Back To Old Dances

Shamrock Scouts Delight Crowd With Revival Of Old Ball-room Days

Old and young alike were pleased with the program of old-fashioned dances offered by Shamrock troop of girl scouts at its annual holiday old-fashioned party at Columbia hall on Wednesday evening. The members of the troop, some of whom were in old-fashioned costumes demonstrated each dance and the majority of the people took part in each number after its demonstration.

Eight of the girls dressed in court costume gave a demonstration of a pretty court dance. The girls were graceful in their interpretation of the dignified movements of the dance.

They were Margaret and Louise Murphy, Margaret Rooney, Doris Thompson, Margaret Murphy, Frances Roble, Eunice Bloomer, Cathleen Cooney and Helen Gilman.

The crowd at the party was not large, but all the guests were enthusiastic about the program. Credit is given to Miss Eleanor Halls, captain of the troop, and Miss Martha Chandler, who assisted her, for the success of the party. Some of the old-fashioned dances proved good mixers when the people got into the spirit of them.

PARTIES

A "grab-bag" was the feature at the regular meeting of Lady Eagles, in Eagle hall Wednesday afternoon. Prize winners at cards were Mrs. Louis Flotow, Mrs. Edward Lehman, Mrs. W. Lubben and Mrs. Roy Koestler.

Mrs. James Wood entertained at 5 o'clock luncheon Wednesday afternoon for Miss Edith Wood who is home for the holidays from Philadelphia. The party was given at the home, 660 Washington-st to 20 guests.

William Nettage entertained at dinner in the Blue room of the Sherman house at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Covers were laid for eight.

Mrs. J. L. Wolf and Mrs. Charles Baldwin entertained 58 guests at a 1 o'clock luncheon in the Venetian room of the Sherman house, Wednesday. Meliorima society orchestra furnished music for the party. Prize winners at cards were Miss Mayme Poetzl of Neenah, Mrs. M. Bender and Mrs. A. J. McKay.

Miss Florence Schaefer entertained 10 friends at her home, Morrison-st, Tuesday afternoon. Games and dancing furnished entertainment.

The Dancing club will entertain at a dinner-dance in Knights of Columbus hall Thursday evening. The members acting as hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Long, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Peerenboom.

Mrs. J. E. Thomas and Miss Mary Thomas will entertain at a dancing party Friday evening in Elk hall. Thompson orchestra will furnish music.

Charles Heckert, Sunday school superintendent of the German Methodist church, will entertain the teachers and officers at a Christmas party Friday evening, from 5 to 8 o'clock in the parlors of the church.

Elk Ladies entertained at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon in Elk hall. Seven tables were in play.

LODGE NEWS

Eastern Star had a regular meeting in Masonic hall Wednesday evening at which balloting on candidates was the important business. Officers will be installed at the meeting in two weeks.

The Fraternal Reserve association will hold a social next Tuesday evening following its business meeting. The program will be made up largely of stunts by the different members.

CLUB MEETINGS

Miss Flora Kethoe entertained the Tuesday club at her home, 508 Washington-st, Wednesday afternoon. Christmas quotations were given in response to roll call and short stories were read by Mrs. W. O. Thiede and Mrs. A. A. Wettenberg.

GIRL BADLY HURT IN FALL DOWN CELLAR STEPS

Miss Ermina Jagerson, Neenah, was seriously injured Wednesday when she fell down a cellar stairs in the Olene Hat Shop, Neenah, where she is employed. She fell on her head and shoulders. An X-ray examination will be necessary to determine if her skull is fractured.

Miss Jagerson went into a room at the rear of the store and fell through a door which had been left open by another employee.

APPLETON GIVEN BETTER WIRE SERVICE TO CHICAGO

Better telegraphic service between Appleton and Chicago was made possible Thursday when Appleton was given an exclusive Western Union wire to the western metropolis. Heretofore Neenah has shared the Chicago wire with Appleton, often taking up much of the time and messages from this city were delayed. Neenah now has been put on another wire and Appleton has exclusive use of the Chicago circuit.

PERSONALS

Marriage Of Aged Pair Lasts Only One Year

Married at 68 and 57 respectively, separated after four months and divorced after a year and a week is the experience of Fred Zitzke and his wife Elizabeth Zitzke of New London.

Mrs. Zitzke was granted a divorce from her husband Wednesday by Judge A. M. Spencer after she brought suit charging Mr. Zitzke with cruel and inhuman treatment. A division of property was made whereby Mrs. Zitzke receives $1,000. She also is to receive $100 for support which her husband is alleged to have withheld since the separation. They were married Dec. 20, 1921 and separated April 30, 1922.

MILWAUKEE EASY TO REACH BY AUTO

This Is First Time Trip Could Be Made With Ease During Winter

Perhaps nothing is considered more remarkable in automobile circles at this time than the fact that it is possible to drive from Appleton to Milwaukee with the same ease as in the summer time.

Many motorists are making the trip daily and declare that driving is better now than in the warmer weather, because there are fewer cars on the highway, which makes faster traveling possible.

With a continuous concrete ribbon in existence for the first time, this condition will obtain as long as there is no heavy snowfall. One traveler arriving here Thursday declared that the ice all has melted off the concrete and that chains are not necessary.

One year ago owners of automobiles never would have thought a trip to Milwaukee possible when winter was supposed to be in full sway.

ARCHITECTS' CONTRACT FOR SCHOOLS SIGNED

D. H. Perkins of Perkins, Fellows and Hamilton of Chicago was in Appleton on Tuesday to sign the architect's contract for the two junior high schools which are to be erected soon. The Chicago firm was awarded the contract sometime ago, but it was not until Tuesday that F. S. Bradford, attorney for the board of education, had the contract ready to be signed.

Mr. Perkins returned to Chicago where the plans for the schools are being given the attention of the best architects of his firm.

DENIED DIVORCE FROM SCHNEIDER

Wife Of Former Appleton Man Tells Of Change From Riches To Clerkship

Ruling that testimony was insufficient to warrant a decree, Circuit Judge Oscar M. Fritz, Milwaukee, denied a divorce to Florence Schneider, 172 Thirteenth-st, Milwaukee, plaintiff in a suit against Henry G. Schneider, formerly of Appleton.

Mrs. Schneider testified that her husband had been abusive when drunk and swore at her. He threw a steak at her upon one occasion, she said. While formerly "handsomely supported" and provided with an automobile, diamonds, jewelry and all the money she needed, Mrs. Schneider is now clerking in a Milwaukee department store at $15 a week, according to testimony.

"I treated her right," Mr. Schneider testified. "The testimony of my abusing her is not true. I admit I drank; she drank with me." Mrs. Schneider has been working in Milwaukee since Oct. 10, 1921. The couple were married July 25, 1914.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fountain returned to Chicago, Thursday, after a several days' visit with Appleton relatives.

27 YOUTHS WITH Hobbies Entered In 'Y' Show Jan. 1

Unique Exhibit Will Be Part Of New Years Open House Program

The second annual hobby show of the boys department of the Y. M. C. A. to be held New Years day in connection with the annual open house will be one of the big events of the department activities. Following last year's hobby show a large number of boys became interested in collecting relics, stamps, coins, etc., until this year it has become necessary to combine the show to the membership only because of the large number of boys that wish to exhibit their hobby.

The show will be open from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 8:30 in the evening, and all exhibitors will be on hand to answer questions regarding their hobby. The show is free and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone to visit it.

OFFER GOOD PRIZES

Among the prizes offered are a hatchet and hammer, scouring pad, pogo stick, skis with harness, tennis racket, hunting knife and safety match case, 25¢ packet of African stamps, Scott 1923 stamp catalog and games of spout, root and pit. Prizes are being gotten from out-of-town manufacturing companies and more are being received daily.

The judges of the show will determine the best exhibits in the different classes and also will decide who of the exhibitors has the best exhibit in the entire show. The boy receiving first honors will be conducted to a room where all the prizes will be displayed and will be permitted to take his choice.

ENTRIES ANNOUNCED

The names of those who have entered the contest and their hobbies are given below:

HELENA STUDIES REPAIR PLAN HERE

Montana City Wants To Adopt Appleton Plan Of Fixing Streets

Helena, Mont., is the latest of the cities to become interested in the system of tarvia street repair in inaugurated in Appleton a few years ago. The secretary of the chamber of commerce of that city has written O. F. Weissgerber, city engineer, asking for photographs and full particulars pertaining to the methods used with success here.

The method of filling the worn down depressions and crevices of brick pavements with an application of tarvia and pea gravel was introduced by Engineer Weissgerber here in 1919, as an experiment. The success attained in smoothing the surface of pavements attracted the attention of many other cities throughout the United States. Recently Binghamton, New York, became interested, and now Muskegon Mich., after studying the information and photographs submitted by Mr. Weissgerber, improved about 12,000 square yards of street pavement.

The method has given perfect satisfaction, the city engineer is informed. Appleton improved about 30,000 yards of pavement by this method thereby saving the city about $25,000.

BIGGEST HOLIDAY MAIL IN HISTORY HANDLED QUICKLY BY FORCE AT POSTOFFICE

Nothing Remained For Carriers To Handle Day After Christmas—More Than 50,000 Letters Added To Last Year's Record

"Well, I'm glad that's over." That was the sentiment of postal employees after emerging from another Christmas rush. They are happy because Christmas comes but once a year. They are proud of the fact that they have this year handled satisfactorily the heaviest mail in the history of Appleton postoffice.

Many of the workers at the post office, including the postmaster, have been in the service from 20 to 25 years. But never has the amount of mail exceeded that of the Christmas just past. Last year approximately 170,000 pieces of first class mail passed through the automatic canceling machine. This year the total was 233,500, or an increase of more than 50,000.

DECLINED SATURDAY

Every day last week marked an increase in the amount of mail matter deposited by local patrons. Saturday the amount again dropped to almost normal. Thursday and Friday it was higher than any previous day in the postoffice's history. The machines recorded as follows from day to day: Monday, 26,693; Tuesday, 31,336; Wednesday, 39,615; Thursday, 47,410; Friday, 52,235; Saturday, 20,929. The figures do not include the hand stamped first class mail of odd size, or hand-stamped mail of other classes.

Post master Zuehlke remembers the time when the amount of mail handled a day was about eight pouches. During last week the number of pouches dispatched was more than 200 a day. A like number of pouches was also delivered from the local office.

Corresponding increases in postal receipts, the amount of parcel post handled and the amount of parcels insured also are noted from year to year.

SUBSTATION A HELP

Had it not been for the newly established postal station at Downer's West End pharmacy, the congestion at the main postoffice service windows would have been much greater. A considerable amount of first class mail and parcel post was handled through the substation.

Christmas week meant extra hours of labor for clerks and carriers, some of them reporting as early as 5 o'clock and working until late that evening. And on Christmas day, when the remainder of the Appleton residents were participating in the festivities of the day of days, the carriers were trudging from street to street, returning to their homes at about 5

MERGE CITY PLAN BODIES OF STATE

Meeting Will Be Held In Milwaukee In January For This Purpose

A state association of city planning commissions is to be one of the results of the meeting of Wisconsin mayors, city engineers, and members of city planning commissions at Kenosha last week. William G. Schuchardt, president of the Milwaukee public land commission, was elected temporary president of the organization. A second meeting will be held in Milwaukee the first week in January.

The Appleton city planning commission was not represented at the meeting last week, but some of the members are planning to attend the one to be held in Milwaukee. Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Green Bay and Madison were represented at the Kenosha meeting. Exchange of ideas on city planning and zoning is to be the purpose of the organization.

total attendance of more than 110,000.

There are six planks in the platform of the 1923 farmers' institute workers as announced by E. L. Luther, superintendent. They are 5,000 more acres of alfalfa; 150 cow testing associations in Wisconsin by March 10; 2 more units of the Wisconsin Cooperative Creamery Association. One new unit of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers Federation; five more county-wide tuberculosis cleanups; ten or more local lime grinders.

Dairy feeding for profitable production is to be stressed at the coming institute.

THE first telephone in Wisconsin connected a doctor's office with a druggist. The future of this crude instrument, at the time, seemed none too bright.

In less than the span of a single life the telephone has covered the State with a network of communication facilities.

Today the marvel of talking across a city, a state, or a nation is no longer looked upon as a miracle but merely as a detail of the service which covers a nation and embraces nearly four million telephones.

These men, who were the only persons alive with Chauvannes when he finally reached the Iturn on the morning of the 17th of December, must have been three of the most desperate adventurers in the world. They were evidently broken men at the end of their tether, willing to stake everything on a last chance, or they would not have joined Chauvannes. They were not men he selected. He never would have selected men of this character. They seem to have followed him in and to have literally annexed themselves to his expedition when he left the Congo east of the Leopold. They must have been an exquisite devil's guard—those three—the little wolf-faced Apache Luttre, the Finn sailor, and the American beachcomber they called Captain Dix.

"The Apache was the one who came in with the journal. He must have been, after all, what you would call the 'best man' of the three. Nevertheless it was these three hell-birds who came out alive with Chauvannes. And what he had to say about them is on every page of the journal. He must have changed his mind very shortly after they joined him, because the first impressions he wrote down, which were probably what our own would have been, were afterward scratched out. We might have believed that some one else had made these erasures but for the fact that the journal from this time on never fails to speak of these three men in the highest terms. Their tirelessness, their energy, their courage, their devotion to Chauvannes is the one note that continues through this journal to the end.

"Of course one could say that as these men had to depend on Chauvannes to bring them out, the presence of a common peril would have united them in his support and that while they were apparently exerting themselves for him, they were, in fact laboring to get out of that wilderness alive.

"They were evidently densely ignorant persons of a low order, every one of them. The Finn and the American beachcomber had no education whatever; Luttre could read, he was a deserter, we think, from the Foreign Legion—and he had a sort of devil's shrewdness. But he was朴实, when it came to wits, for Chauvannes. None of them were. They were ignorant and superstitious. But they were determined, desperate to the last degree and afraid of nothing."

"One of the features of the journal that first impressed me was the fact that Chauvannes had no illusions about these men. He understood each of them perfectly. He pinned the success of his great plan to an accurate conception of the Apache Luttre. He thought this desperate human creature was what you would call the 'best man.' He expected him to come out the best man and he laid the plan he had in mind to fit that eventually. And he did right. I saw that when I got to thinking about the journal.

"And I saw something else. I saw that Chauvannes realized his own situation pretty early in the march of events. He knew what he was going into. And he knew where the thing would lead. He realized it a long way ahead. This fact, as I have said, was one of the conspicuous features of the journal. I suppose one, in an incipient madness might realize all the accurate features of the situation that lay about Chauvannes, and before him as he did; but I doubt it. I think only a man sound and sane could have seen it with the certainty that Chauvannes saw it, and at the distance beyond the event. Only the soundest intelligence, in the calm control of every faculty, could have realized that the thing before him was inevitable. A man in any other state of mind would have undertaken to delude himself. He would have resorted to futile devices, or to some tragic issue before the end, or to some futile hope. It took a man like Chauvannes, profoundly sane, to see that the thing that awaited him was inevitable."

"I studied that journal as closely as a cipher dispatch. The evidences of Chauvannes' mental condition did not appear until the entries beginning about the seventeenth of December—the day on which they finally came out of the forest on the old elephant trail. Of course, strange things had happened before that—the decimation of the force, for one

Grill Supper
Easy To Eat
And To Serve*Jolly Time Can Be Had Preparing Late Meal With Electric Grill

Midnight suppers when a few friends are invited in after the theater, are delightful affairs served from an electric grill. Cooked right on the table without any fuss or flurry around the kitchen. A grill supper will meet with the approval of your guests. What to cook is something of a problem. The recipes below will help you.

SWISS RABBIT

"Rabbits that have no legs" seem to belong specially to grill cookery. You know lots of them already, I expect. But perhaps this one may not be known to you, and it is particularly nice and economical.

Have ready beforehand a fresh egg, beaten up in a cup with one ounce of crumbs and three tablespoons of cream or "the top of the milk;" three ounces of grated cheese—Gruyere is best, but nice dry Cheddar will do; four nice little half rounds of hot buttered toast.

WELSH RABBIT

One teaspoon butter, one-half pound cheese, one-fourth cup milk, one egg, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon mustard, speck of cayenne pepper.

Melt the butter, break the cheese into small pieces, and add with the seasoning to the butter. When the cheese melts, add the egg, beaten with the milk and cook one minute. Scrape at once on toast or wafers.

RAGOUT OF CHICKEN AND RICE

Prepare beforehand one cupful of rice cooked till it is tender, but not squashy; one cupful of cold chicken cut into large dice; half a cupful of thick white sauce.

At the moment, rub the frying pan with a head of garlic or a little cut onion. Melt a tiny piece of butter in it, and just swirl it round to make the sides slippery and prevent the ragout from sticking. Put in the chicken, rice, sauce, pepper, salt, and a good grate of nutmeg. Stir up well, cover the dish and let it simmer gently for 20 minutes. Stir it now and then and add a little drop of water or white sauce if it is getting too thick. Scrape out of the pan.

For variety, use half a cupful each of cold veal and lean ham instead of chicken. Use no nutmeg, but a bay leaf simmered in the ragout and taken out before serving.

You can do the same thing with mutton and a brown sauce, instead of white meat and a white sauce. It may be flavored with an onion stuck with two cloves. Remove the onion before serving.

LIVER A LA MINUTE

Prepare beforehand half a pound of calf's liver, cut into neat thin slices and rolled in flour, pepper and salt; one peeled and chopped shallot; a little chopped parsley.

At the moment, melt half an ounce of butter in the deep pan and fry the shallot in it. Put in the sliced liver and turn the pieces carefully with a fork, taking pains to keep them from burning, till they are neatly fried on both sides. Now add three tablespoonsfuls of gravy or stock and the same amount of tomato sauce, with salt and red pepper to taste. Simmer for five minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve from the pan with fried potato vibones or chips.

DEVILED ALMONDS

Deviled almonds will prove a treat if you wish to add dessert to the grill supper.

Prepare half a pound of almonds, blanched, skinned and dried on a soft cloth; one saltspoonful each of salt, cayenne and curry powder, well mixed together.

At the moment, put one large tablespoonful of the best sweet olive oil in the frying pan and let it get hot. Then add the almonds and fry them a good golden brown, tossing them often, so that the color may be even and clear. Pour off every drop of the oil, then add the salt mixture and stir them in with your fingers, working and rubbing them till they are almost cold. Turn them into a little silver dish lined with a lace paper, and serve.

MRS. H. W. JOHNSON GETS DIVORCE; CRUELTY, BASIS

Eleanor Johnson of Kaukauna was granted an absolute divorce from H. William Johnson in circuit court at Oshkosh on Dec. 9. Cruel and inhuman treatment Mrs. Johnson's charges against her husband. She was granted a settlement and given the household furniture. Mrs. Johnson declared she was under a physician's care on several occasions due to her husband's cruel treatment.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry D. Kitson of Bloomington, Ind., who have been spending the holidays with Mrs. Kitson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Freeman, left Tuesday for Boston Mass., where they will spend several days.

PRACTICAL AND PRETTYEXPECTANT MOTHER NEEDS EXERCISE

BY DR. A. O. PETERS
Commissioner Of Health, Dayton, O.

Every expectant mother should early place herself under the care of a good physician.

She should safeguard her health in every way and so far as possible, be relieved of worry, have plenty of fresh air, wholesome food, sufficient recreation, rest and sleep. Her clothing should be loose, though she may wear corsets during the earlier months.

Persistent or sudden and severe headaches, swelling of the face or hands or increased swelling of the ankles must be reported at once to the physician in charge.

GOOD DOCTOR NEEDED

A number of patent medicines have been widely advertised to make child-birth safe, easy and painless; these are not to be depended on. The expectant mother should employ a reputable physician and follow his advice.

For her confinement, if she does not go to a hospital, the mother should provide a large, clean, light room, and the necessary maternity outfit should be conveniently at hand.

For at least a week before the baby is born the mother should rest in bed, and for several more weeks she should do no really heavy work. Serious organz trouble result from the failure to follow this advice.

PLENTY OF FOOD

The mother's food should be plentiful, wholesome and nutritious, that the child may be nursed at the breast. She should drink plenty of milk, but much tea or coffee is injurious.

In order to train the child and keep herself well and strong, the mother should systematize baby's daily life—the nursing time, bath sleep and outdoor periods.

If the baby is fretful often, the mother should seek the doctor's advice, but never rely upon soothing syrups or medicines recommended by the neighbors.

DRESS HINTSKNITTED COSTUMES

Knitted costumes are shown not only for sports wear at winter resorts, but for general utility. They vary in weight, some being very light and others of a very heavy quality of wool or silk, but nearly all follow the general style of separate skirt and slip-over blouse.

SEPARATE SKIRTS

For sports wear are many attractive striped skirts, pleated and plain. Those with the tan and brown shades predominating are most seen. Black-and-white, too, is extremely popular.

GOOD MANNERS

Tipping is un-American and much to be deplored, but where it prevails it is doubtful policy, even if not actually bad form, to defy the custom.

Waiters, porters and others similarly employed generally have their pay fixed at a low figure in expectation that their incomes will be increased by their tips, and it is hardly fair to penalize them for a system they themselves may dislike.

But excessive tipping is vulgar. Ten to 12 per cent of the bill is the rule for waiters and usually it may be accepted as a standard.

Here Are Some Hints To Make Washing Easier

Cut up two or three pieces of paraffin saved from jelly jars. Put this in the wash-boiler before boiling clothes and you will be surprised at the whiteness of the clothes.

Use a clothespin bag that ties around your waist. In this put a hot-water bag on a cold day along with the clothespins, and both you and the pins keep warm until all the clothes are hung on the line.

In hanging out clothes in cold weather, add a little salt to the rinsing water and the clothes will not freeze to the line.

Add a little borax to the water in which the kitchen towels are washed.

If the baby is fretful often, the mother should seek the doctor's advice, but never rely upon soothing syrups or medicines recommended by the neighbors.

If the busy mother will wash the baby's jackets or the children's sweaters in the usual way and then put them in a clean pan and set in a warm place to dry, they will be like new. Turn them often and shake a little as they dry.

Never sprinkle pungen to iron. Roll in a towel while wet and iron when still damp.

To iron men's soft collars, begin at the points and press toward the

KIMBERLY CLARK AND Y. M. C. A. WIN CAGING GAMES

INDUSTRIES OPEN SCHEDULE WITH HAIL OF BASKETS

Postpone Game Between Furnace And Interlake Teams—
Dormitory Whitewashed

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S RESULTS

Kimberly Clark 14, Fox River Paper Co. 10.

Y. M. C. A. 88, Dormitory 0.

The Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basket ball team opened its schedule Wednesday night, playing its first game with a ball of baskets.

Only two games were played. The third contest, between the Badger Furnace company and Interlake Pulp and Paper company, was postponed until a later date on account of the inability of the Interlake cagers to be present. In the two games Wednesday night 50 points were registered.

FIGHT CLOSE BATTLE

At $1.50 the Kimberly-Clark quintet met the Fox River team in a closely contested battle which resulted in the K. C. team winning by two baskets. The final score was 14 to 10. Boettcher's fast work on the floor was a great asset to the Kimberly team although Klundt made the most baskets after going into Erickson's place in center.

The Fox River team played very good ball and at the end of the first half the score was 4 to 4. There was no spectacular work by any individual.

BAETZ FORCED OUT

Baetz was forced to leave the game at the beginning of the second half because of an injured ankle and his position at left guard was filled by T. Radtke. Johnson went in for Hartjes at left forward. In the last ten minutes Baetz was able to return to his position.

In the Y. M. C. A. and the T. Dormitory affair, the Y. M. C. A. team showed that it has a caking staff of special merit. Center Dunn had 22 points out of the 35 tallied against the Dormitory team. The Dormitory boys, though putting up strenuous efforts at various times, were unable to shoot the ball through the basket once and consequently were whitewashed.

HARD TO JUDGE

Because of the Furnace and Interlake teams failing to appear on the floor the relative strength of the six quintets cannot be judged as yet. The teams will play each Wednesday night at the "Y" gym. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Following are the lineups of the teams and the baskets each player made:

MUST STATE AGE

Entrants must be sure to state their ages and indicate the class and events they will enter when they return their entry blanks to the Skating Editor of the Post-Crescent. If an entrant fails his age in order to enter a class in which he is not qualified he will not be permitted to race. The Skating Editor reserves the right to place the entrants in their proper classes if they enter a class other than that which their ages indicate.

For example: If a skater 17 years old enters the intermediate class which is for boys and girls from 12 to 15 inclusive, the Skating Editor will enter him in the senior division and he must compete in that division or withdraw from the contest. This is necessary to prevent older boys from competing against the youngsters and to keep the younger people out of the senior divisions.

Ten skating officials will be at each tournament to see that the races are conducted properly. These officials will include a tournament manager, two judges at the finish, scorer, announcer and four patrols who will watch the course to see that there is no cutting of corners or other violations of the rules. In addition a sufficient number of men will be provided to keep the skating course free from spectators.

PRIZES AGGREGATE $75

Prizes aggregating $75, consisting of high grade skates, flashlights, watches, skating scarfs and mittens and other skating equipment will be given the winners of the final events on Jan. 28. No prizes will be given at elimination contests which are to select participants in the finals.

If you take a little winter sun some nice sunny afternoon, run your car out on the Brick Yard and take a peep at the little colony, it is interesting as well as pictorial for the Kodak friend and if the fever grips you probably one of the owners will let you drop a line through the hole in the ice covered by his little hut.

Undoubtedly you'll catch a few for table use, as "they always bite better in winter than in the summer time," because the "feed" isn't as plentiful and if you are stampeded for bait, why here's a little tip. Visit your "old minnow hole," chop a hole through the ice and if there's any minnows around they will come to the top for "air" and all one has to do is scoop them up with a small dip net. Fresh pork and a perch cut into little pieces too is good bait to use. Of course you can't give that "big one" much line and play him as much as you like to do but you'll be delighted with the firm flesh of any fish caught through the ice because they have packed their winter "fat" to last till spring and they make fine eatin' this time of the year.

HORTONVILLE MERCHANTS DEFEAT APPLETON ACES

Special to Post Crescent

Hortonville — Kimberly or Black Creek will be the next foe of the Hortonville Merchants on Wednesday, Jan. 3. Teams from both towns are anxious to meet the strong Hortonville five and a decision will be made this week which of the quintets is to be chosen. Hortonville Merchants

Preliminary Races In City Ice Classic To Be Held Jan. 14 And Jan. 21

Ten Officials Will Be In Charge Of Each Tournament—Entries Must Be Made Before Jan. 10—Every Skater Is Invited

DEMPSEY IS EAGER TO BATTLE TOMMY

Preparations are being completed for the first of the series of elimination tournaments to select skaters to compete in the first annual city championship tourney on the Jones Park rink Sunday, Jan. 28. Interest in skating indicates that several hundred men, women, boys and girls will be entered in the preliminary contests which will be held on Jan. 14 and Jan. 21.

The Jan. 14 tournaments will be held on the First ward, Jones Park and Fifth ward rinks. On Jan. 21 preliminaries will be staged on the Third ward and Fourth ward rinks. Only those persons who live in the districts prescribed for each rink may take part in the preliminary events and no skaters who have not won places in the preliminary contests will be permitted to compete in the finals for the prizes and the championships on Jan. 28. The districts were established so that there will be about an equal number of skaters entered in each of the elimination contests. The five winners in each event will compete in the finals.

The First Ward Rink—All persons living in that territory bounded by the river on the south, the city limits on the north, the center of Drew-st on the west and the river on the east.

Jones Park Rink—Skaters eligible to compete in the Jones park elimination tournament must live in the territory bounded by the river on the south, the city limits on the north, the center line of State-st on the east, the river on the south and the center line of Lawrence-st on the west.

Third Ward Rink—To compete in the Third ward rink elimination tournament skaters must live in the territory bounded by the city limits on the west, the center line of State-st on the east, the river on the south and the center line of Lawrence-st on the west.

Fourth Ward Rink—This includes all skaters living south of the river.

Fifth ward rink—all skaters living in the territory bounded on the west by the city limits, the east by the center line of State-st, the south by the center line of Lawrence-st and the north by the city limits.

Program for the elimination contests and the championship races will be identical. The racing will start promptly at 1 o'clock and it is believed the program of 12 events can be completed in two hours. Only persons entered in the races will be permitted on the ice but everyone is invited to witness the contests.
